The Werewolves Roam The Earth

The German Counter-Offensive

NO UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER IN 1945 FOR NAZIS

The average person stands puzzled before the drama of the highest civilized nations, with the longest history of Church education, being lined up on the Western Front murdering each other on Christmas-day. Which goes to prove that their boasted civilization is not civil, for they are in the army now, and their church education is un-Christian since by their fruits you shall know them. Then what is it that we behold today and in confusion are perplexed?!

In Germany there goes a legend of the werewolf and in Asia of the weretiger. These legends are not legends, they are stark naked reality today when armored tanks and fortresses are roaming earth and sky to kill, and kill and kill. Surviving Jews in Vilna took the "holy werewolf oath" to show no mercy in their killings.

This double and contradictory expression of human and in-human nature which represents not one people, one nation, one race, but all of them the world over, cannot be glossed over. It clamors for an answer because it is our children who are turning werewolves and weretigers upon taking their military oath. What can the result of such practical education be? Will it bring heaven or worse hell upon the planet?

Just when we were lulled into the belief that Germany was finished as a belligerent, suddenly the ingenuity of the Aryan werewolf produces new weapons and new desperate courage, refusing to surrender unconditionally. This demonstrates in reverse what Aryan ingenuity could do were it employed in the service of the Christ as single-heartedly as it is employed in service of the Nazi Werewolf. Would the Germans take their oath, their vows of confirmation day as seriously, what example could this Aryan nation not set forth to the world!

The Aryan is the highest organic mechanism in the flesh upon this planet. Having drugged himself with blood, feasting on lambs, geese, cattle, etc., its genius turned into a werewolf. And the same holds for all Aryan tribes who demonstrate their beastly religion of "blood for blood and a life for a life" which they accepted from the Jewish Torah in place of the teachings of the Christ.

The drama in Western Europe is an exemplification of what perverse effect ingenuity of the Aryan produces when it is dedicated to rule by force in place of rule by equity. But the leading werewolves in all camps incarcerate all Christians in concentration camps, conchie camps and slave labor prisons, whenever and wherever they refuse to take the werewolf oath to kill and kill and kill.

And still God cannot be mocked, for whatsoever man soweth, that also does he reap!

The Dregs of War are Bitter

The greatest competition in lying ever carried on between two newspapers is the one going on between the two famous sewer sheets of Moscow, Pravda (which ought to be called Depravda) and Izvestia. Pravda is the official Communist liar and smearer and Izvestia is the official liar of the Kremlin.

Neither of those "journalistic" garbage cans could exist a minute without Warden Stalin's consent and neither would dare print anything that was not approved by him. Their editors and writers have the same freedom as do the editors of the papers published in Alcatraz and Sing Sing.

Izvestia has, in particular, been particularly active trying to split the alliance between the United States and Russia. It has been doing its best to get the American troops out of Iran (Persia) because Russia has decided to grab off all the oil that Iran produces.

These American soldiers are in Iran until six months after the war by mutual agreement between the United States, Russia, England and Iran. They are, besides, there to help get American supplies into Russia by way of Iran, which has been called the "Burma Road of the Soviets."

Izestia also during the recent campaign spread the news that the Republicans were planning to fake an attempt on Governor Dewey's life for the purpose of making sympathetic votes for him.

On the other hand, no American paper, no matter how anti-Russian it may be, can possibly "lie" about Russia, for the truth itself is so hideous that it will never officially leak out. The real fount of all anti-Nazi Nations newspaper lies in the world today is Pravda and Izvestia.

If Marshal Stalin is not trying deliberately to break off with the U. S. A. (and England too) he had better fumigate those two open sewers of social venom, Izvestia and Pravda. To say they "stink" would be to libel the skunk.

SOUND COUNSEL

A powerful addition to the ranks of those fighting permanent peacetime conscription in the United States appeared on the scene recently. Labor, hard-hitting publication for the Railroad Brotherhoods, devoted its leading editorial to denouncing the drive for a permanent draft.

"Instead of urging peacetime compulsory military service for our country," Labor contended, "We should insist that the evil be abolished in all countries. Down through the centuries, conscription of men for military purposes has been the surest weapon of tyrants who wished to wage war, because conscription always gave them an army, ready-made, whenever they wished to use it.

"In fighting autocracy, the most democratic of nations have sometimes been compelled to resort to conscription, but now that we have autocracy flat on its back, we should shun the things that have made autocracy possible."

War for Conquest not Freedom

ALLIES CHARGED WITH DIVERSION FROM NO. 1 GOAL

WASHING,— The Army & Navy Journal holds that British and Russian "preoccupation" with affairs in eastern and southern Europe prolonged the war with Germany past Dec. 7. The unofficial service publication says:

"Since D-day in France, greater preoccupation has been shown by Russia in her Baltic and Balkan campaigns, intended to insure her security, and by Great Britain in Italy, Greece and Albania, to protect her life line through the Mediterranean, than in achievement of the prime objective of our armies—the prompt defeat of Germany and concentration of all possible power to that end.

"The result has been that the expectation in Washington that the war in Europe would be over by the Pearl Harbor anniversary, has not been realized."

MASS SEDITION TRIAL EXPIRATION DEADLINE EXTENDED 3 MONTHS

WASHINGTON,— Resumption of the mass sedition trial, thrown into confusion by the death of Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher November 30, is problematical, but an echo of that riotous "cause celebre" was sounded.

Justice James Proctor handed down an order extending the court term in the case three months beyond the date it would automatically have ended, December 31. It was pointed out that several contempt citations have not yet been disposed of. Failing extension, they would have lapsed Sunday, Dec. 31.

Rush D. Holt, Chairman
CHARLESTON

Weston, West Virginia,
December 11, 1944

Dear Friend:

Thank you for the paper and the note attached thereto.

I was elected to the West Virginia House of Delegates in November. The people of Lewis county wrote my name on the ballot and sent me back. There were two candidates on the ballot, a Republican and a Democrat but the people scratched out their names and wrote mine in. I had a clear majority over both and a plurality of 2349. This, coming from my neighbors in my home county, meant much to me.

Happenings in Europe substantiate the things I said in the Senate.

Hope everything is going fine for you.

Sincerely, RUSH D. HOLT

Henderson, Kommissar for Eisenhower

Editor, The Broom:

WASHINGTON,— On November 29th ult., the news was given announcing that Leon Henderson, organizer and former chief of the O. P. A. had just been appointed Economic Counselor to General Eisenhower and was scheduled to leave for England at once.

Organized American Women who are radically opposed to Communist dictatorship and who are also mothers and wives of those innumerable soldiers dying on the battlefields of Europe, assert their right to question the appointment of a Communist such as Leon Henderson, to serve directly under or rather, to dictate policies to General Eisenhower, chief of our Armies in Europe.

Enclosed is a photostat showing that Leon Henderson was President of a Communist organization, the Washington Friends of Spanish Democracy. All of us vividly remember the atrocities committed by the infamous Lincoln and Washington Brigades and kindred Bolshevistic troops, their murder of defenseless Christian people and the confiscation and destruction of private property in Spain.

At the same time that he was President of the Washington Friends of Spanish Democracy, Leon Henderson, in 1938, was also Executive Secretary and virtual head of the T. N. E. C., Temporary National Economic Committee, which had as its aim the confiscation of privately-owned corporations and property.

Moreover, testifying before the subcommittee of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce in 1943, M. Israel Moses Sieff, a British subject, Chairman of the P. E. P., Political Planning in England, a subversive organization which also planned the annihilation of free enterprise and the complete destruction of retail and small business in the British Empire, stated that he had been invited here in the U. S. to join the O. P. A. as a consultant, by Leon Henderson. (page 652)

The nefarious activities of Leon Henderson and his subversive contacts are too well known to us, and we are, therefore, strongly urged to question such an appointment which, much to our suprise, does not seem to have attracted the attention of any of the members of the House or Senate.

Yet, Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney who is a member of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, cannot fail to recollect that in February, 1939, when he was Chairman of the T. N. E. C., a delegation of men and women called his personal attention then to the Communistic affiliations of Leon Henderson who was at that time Executive Secretary of the T. N. E. C.

We respectfully request that immediate attention be given to our petition for the investigation of Leon Henderson's appointment and its cancellation.

Judging from the news coming in hourly from Europe about the rise of Communism, it seems as though there were enough such individuals over there without the United States having to send over their own Communists, especially as counselor to the heads of our armed Forces. —AMERICAN MOTHER

NEXT PHASE OF MONOPOLY STUDY TO EXAMINE FLOW of INVESTMENT CAPITAL

While Congress and the President are pelting missiles and missives up and down Pennsylvania Avenue in a pretty spectacular snowball fight, that agglomerate little outfit whose alphabetical abbreviations is TNEC keeps right on digging down deep into the economic drifts —and wait till you see what the boys come up with next!

TNEC, of course, stands for Temporary National Economic Committee, the group of Senators, Congressmen and executive "experts" (in case you've forgotten) that started out not many months ago to re-make, or at least re-study, our economic world.

It's just like Washington to have given O'Mahoney, Borah, Henderson & Co., a big play for a couple of weeks while their automotive bigwig witnesses were copping the headlines, and then promptly forget all about 'em.. . . .

Insurance Companies Under Fire

Nothing could be much more ambitious, nor fundamentally important if it leads to action, than the next scheduled phase of T.N.E..C's inquiry.

Within a few weeks this dozen men representative of every economic point of view, except Communist, are going to try to find out what's wrong, if anything, with the flow of investment in this country; whether it works properly, whether it serves the social and economic advantage of the people, and how, if at all, it should be altered.

Guinea-pigs for this sizable operation will be the insurance companies. TNEC's economists, are approaching—rather humbly, they say—the question of whether entire freedom of investment for those who control large sums of money is a good or bad thing for the national economy.

Members of the TNEC (at least some of them) doubtless would be first to protest that regulation of investment by government would be a far too-radical step; that nothing of the sort is in contemplation —at least not yet..

But that is exactly where the trend of investigation into the handling of the huge insurance pools seems to be headed. . .

But here are some of the questions TNEC's economists are asking:

If it is wrong for the Government to control and direct vast sums of money, as conservatives contend, is it right for a few men directing the re-investment of the funds of millions of small policyholders to exercise an even wider control, of a perhaps greater sum, unregulated?

If there is a lack of risk capital in the country today, can that be attributed entirely to the "scare" thrown into capitalist by New Deal uncertainties? Or is it due also in part to the tying up of large sums, by law and pol-

Speech of

HON. RICHARD M. KLEBERG, Dec. 24, 1944

MR. KLEBERG.—Mr. Speaker, as I address you, sir, on this occasion, I am deeply moved. This may be the last time my voice will be heard from the well of this chamber. A veritable surge made up of human emotions, of the voice of conscience and of reason, fills me as I stand before my colleagues here today. My mind's eye flashes back over the time of life when as a boy, as a young man, and as a grown man with a fine family and my children, before I became a Member of this the greatest of deliberative assemblies.

Only yesterday, it seems to me, Speaker Garner administered the oath of office to me as a Member of this body in December of 1931. My associations here in this body have been too wonderful to describe in words.

As I look before me I see the faces of many dear and close friends I have made. I am filled with the consciousness of the tremendous educational advantage bestowed upon me by the beloved and great people of the district who honored me by choosing me as their Representative. All of this fills me with a gratitude which I find no words to express....

I have no desire to pose as a model for others and associate imperfection in those who are different.

For my part, I can and do despise an evil or a sin without despising the sinner. As a matter of fact, Mr. Speaker, I have a deep conviction that living creatures are far more precious under full analysis than are their deeds of bad or good. I hold it more than a propriety —yes, a sacred duty—however, to give warning to my friends and fellows on the approach of danger which perchance they may not discern; and, if by so warning them I may fend the danger before it is too late and may save them from total destruction, I shall feel my duty well performed...

One naturally turns to times remote when the advent of man was first noted on this earth. Like other forms of life which came from the same source, he was born free and with the same singular instinct to resist and war against all and sundry that opposed his right to live.

From the earliest record of government, then extant, we have found them to be governments over the people. There was a slight change as the ages rolled by, and man's ever ceaseless search to free himself from the bondage of other men began to be evidenced.....

Long before the days of the Roman Empire this struggle for freedom began, and in the periods of the Emperors— Julius and Augustus Caesar, followed by Diocletian—we have the clearest example from history as to what I mean.

Years back had it not been for our forefathers in America here, there had been no such thing as freedom in the whole universe. Today, again ere we lose it, and thereby blot it from the ken of mankind we must awake. We must perform our duties and our obligations to those to come. We must realize at all costs to redress ourselves, and it will require wisdom and courage so to do.

The Greeks and the Romans once had the spirit of freedom, but they had not discovered the principle—though determined not to be enslaved, they bent all their power to enslave the rest of the world.....

Mr. Speaker, traffickers in destiny have brought our country to a point where it must choose rebirth or decay. We must choose between George Washington or Hillman— the forthright founder of American liberty or the sly artificer of oppression. We are at that time when we must choose. Yes, Mr. Speaker, and we must act.

The fourth term accomplished another step along the way and path of unbridled ambition when by a narrow margin Sidney Hillman saved it from defeat. In so doing Hillman rode three parties and fragments of other schools of thought into his power. What a sorry spectacle. By his acts and his deeds of record, mean and false in his representation of himself, contemptible in the arts of tyranny and of smear, Sidney Hillman comes into power. The Nation that could wittingly exchange the leadership of such as Washington for the leadership of such as Hillman, in my opinion, would be lost beyond all hope. The Nation has neither wittingly nor thoughtfully made such a choice, Sidney Hillman is merely a pilferer of power, a noisome creature grown fat and lusty on dark contrivance, on vicious defamation, on petty tyranny. He stands merely as a symptom of depravity into which our political life has sunk.

When such a creature in effigy or otherwise sets out to make a dictator over the lives of a free people, the time has come to turn the searchlight of truth upon political conditions.

Sidney Hillman as a power in American politics is a violent offense to political decency. He is, however, but a symptom—an unpleasant one—of decay. This decay has been brought about by the substitution of propaganda for truth, deliberate deception and corruption of our people, mixed with a little terror now and then—sometimes more, sometimes less. Terror, Mr. Speaker!

Black magic has been substituted for statecraft.

...It is time to say to the people the things that you now say in your cloakrooms and your offices. It is time to join issues. Preservation of the integrity of these United States is the most important thing in this world today, to all Americans and to the rest of this world. .....America, free, independent, herself is the first thing first for each and every American worthy of the heritage he has.

The preservation of the United States in its complete integrity and in its material strength is the master policy of all Americans worthy of the name. America did not send her sons to fight and die upon a hundred battle fronts under the inspiration of those who talked "globaloney." I accept the excellent coinage of the lady from Connecticut. A simple American named Simon invented a process to make your automobiles more lasting. You have all heard of—and some of you have had your car "simonized". America did not send her sons to war to Hillmanize America. Nor did she send them to write with their red blood America's approval of all the injustices of European and Asiatic history. She did not send those sons to war to make the world safe for Marxism and the totalitarian way of life.

THEY ARE THE CENSORS

The publicity staff of the War Dept. is sending us pictures and stories about San Diego men's exploits in the various war theatres. Where possible we forward the pictures to relatives, schools, or former employers because of the sentimental value to them.

Looking at the stories we discovered some peculiar items. Usually they are signed: Certified Passed by Field Censor and no personal name appears. But here and there names are in evidence, here they are: Sgt. I. Federgreen; Sgt. Herman Hershkowitz, Long Island City, N. Y.; Cpl. H. Kohn.

Did you know that Sidney Hillman is the alias of Schmuel Gilman?

Swiss Hit U. S. Supply Action

ATTEMPT SEEN TO USE THEM AS WEAPONS AGAINST NAZIS

BERN,—Switzerland took the view, following a Washington announcement that she has been cut off from supplies, that the United States, in effect, sought to force her to become a weapon against Germany.

A Swiss government spokesman said his country's existence has been endangered by the United States move, which Washington sources said was brought about by too much Swiss economic help for the Nazis.

The conservative Swiss newspaper Bund said Switzerland would "definitely refuse to accept demands of any nature."

The situation—gravest since the war's start —"could signify war for ourselves," the Socialistic Bern Tagwacht asserted.

New Campaign Seen

Swiss industrialists took the view that they were in for a new campaign by the United States to force an end to all exports to Germany following the statement of U. S. Secretary of State Stettinius that the whole economic relationship between the United States and the Swiss is receiving consideration.

In its article Tagwacht said it was clear that the American pressure was connected with a general Allied plan which started with Russia's refusal to open diplomatic relations with Switzerland. The newspaper added that the Allies wanted, "whether we like it or not, to draw us into their struggle against Germany."

MIRACLE NEEDED TO ESCAPE COMMUNISM, PRELATE SAYS

QUEBEC,— Cardinal Villeneuve, addressing the St. Jean Baptiste Society here said "We will need a miracle to save ourselves from Communism, as we needed one in 1940 when Britain escaped the horrors of Nazi invasion."

"Communism is a more subtle threat than Nazism," the Cardinal said, "When Communism fights private ownership it also fights the human rights as well as the human person."

BRITISH MINISTER WARNS ZIONISTS AGAINST TERRORISM

CAIRO,—Unless the Jews of Palestine can suppress gangsterism they may suffer the loss of their hopes for an independent nation, says Sir James Grigg, new British minister of state, resident in the Middle East..

Grigg referred to the activities of such extreme nationalists as the "Stern gang," two of whose alleged members now are awaiting trial on charges of assassinating Grigg's predecessor, Lord Moyne.

Grigg said the so-called "Jewish problem" in Palestine frequently was regarded as merely a conflict between Jews and Arabs, with Britain acting as mediator.

"But is must be remembered," he said, "that there is worldwide Christian interest as well. The Christian world will not stand for development of a Nazi type of gangsterism which has caused so much terror and destruction in Palestine."

Flitcraft Defies Court

PREFERS JAIL TO SHOWING G. C. A. RECORDS

CHICAGO,—Asst. Atty. Gen. of Illinois, Albert J. Meserow, a Jew, has been trying since the sixteenth of February to revoke through quo warranto proceedings the state charter of The Gentile Cooperative Association, a not-for-profit Illinois Corporation.

Time and again the case has come up in court but no decision. Meserow vaguely charged that The Gentile Cooperative Association was "subversive and un-American" but has been unable to prove these ridiculous charges.

It can be rightfully reported right here and now that The Gentile Cooperative Association has done more to unify the greatest group of people in America... the Gentiles.... than any other single force. The aims and purpose of the Gentile Cooperative Association are clearly printed in each issue of the Gentile News thus it can be seen that Meserow, quite naturally, would have difficulty making his charges stand up.

However his persecution has persisted. It is not a persecution of Flitcraft alone, but the persecution of all Gentiles by the Jews. His next move was the silly claim that he would have to have access to the books and records of The Gentile Cooperative Association to prove his case. With great pressure behind him he was able to get a Superior Court of Illinois court order from Judge Grager allowing his office to come in and inspect our books and records on Friday, December 1, 1944 at 10:30 a. m.

When four men from the Attorney General's office appeared at The Gentile Cooperative Association office they were handed this letter:

December 1, 1944
Office of:
Hon. George F. Barrett, Att. Gen.
State of Illinois,
208 S. LaSalle Street
Chicago, Illinois
Attention: Mr. Albert J. Meserow.

Re: People of The State vs. Gentile Cooperative Association.

Gentlemen:

It is my understanding that this morning at 10:30 o'clock you will appear in our office for the purpose of examination of books and records as permitted by an order of the Superior Court of Cook County, Illinois, entered in the above matter November 15, 1944.

For the purpose of reducing the amount of work involved in your proving that we have refused to comply with the order we are handing you this letter stating our refusal to follow this order, in writing.

We will refuse to follow this order because we believe the order to be invalid, improper, without legal foundation and for the reason that we believe it infringes our Constitutional right to be secure against unreasonable searches and seizure and for the reason that we feel it violates our Constitutional right not to be required to give evidence against ourselves or to give any evidence which may or might not incriminate ourselves.

We do not necessarily limit ourselves by this letter to the defenses mentioned herein but are merely trying to give you an understanding of our position.

You will note, we are following the reasoning of the Supreme Court of Illinois in Carden v. Ensminger, 328 Ill. 612 (which you cited to the Court in our recent appearance) in which case page 620 the Court said:

"If the party against whom the order is made wishes to contest the validity of the order he may refuse to obey and in a prosecution for contempt now in defense that the court had no authority to make the order. Where the construction of a constitutional provision is involved in such an order an appeal lies directly to this court."

Very truly yours,
Gentile Cooperative Association

Remember Pearl Harbor !

By CHARLES B. DRISCOLL in the S. D. UNION

According to what I read in the New Normal Fifth Reader, in a Kansas country school, it was Patrick Henry who stood up in a little church in Richmond, Va., and said, "Gentlemen may cry 'Peace, peace!' but there is no peace."

Mr. Henry wasn't talking out of the corner of his mouth, either, although the modern debunking historians sometimes bring up the circumstance that he was not averse to taking a bit of a swig out of the bottle now and again. For the kind of speech he could make, he could have a whole case of Scotch, and no priorities involved, so far as I'm concerned.

I think the American people are adult, I have never agreed with the commander-in-chief's theory that they are so childish that they can't take the truth, and you should feed them lies, optimistic stories about victories that were defeats and rosy pictures of a "lasting peace."

So confident am I that the American people have grown up that I would never have told them the lies about Pearl Harbor that were fed to us for a year or more after that disgraceful defeat.

I would never have talked of a "sneak attack". Does any enemy publish to the other side the hour and method of an attack he is going to make?

We knew that we were at war with Germany; had been for months. Not a declared war, of course. But the commander-in-chief went to war for all of us, for better or for worse, when he gave the destroyers to England. That was an act of war, according to international law and according to American statute law.

That act of war was followed by many others, including the order to our navy to fire upon German ships, wherever seen.

No point in discussing the wisdom of the movements now; merely, we must recognize them as what they were intended to be and were: acts of war.

We were at war with Germany, a shooting war, though a war undeclared by congress. All right then, we were also at war with Japan, because the Japs, as we well knew, had a treaty with the Germans providing that they would go to war with us whenever we should go to war with Germany.

Not all the whitewash in the bucket is ever going to blot that out.

The story is told about an Italian prisoner of war working on a peanut farm in the South recently told the owner that Mussolini had told the Italians that they would soon be marching across the plains of the United States. "What he didn't tell us," the prisoner said, "was that we'd have to pick up peanuts on the way."—Tyler (Texas) Journal.

As JOE STALIN would say, "Let's get down to cases."

In a word, what is the U. S. A. going to get out of this war except glory, taxes, our dead and wounded and our enormous debt?

We know what Russia, the British Empire and France are going to get out of it—all the real estate they can grab.

Crucifixion of Jesus and Resurection

By an Eye-Witness

LETTER OF THE ESSENE ELDER

(From one of the Essene Elders in Jerusalem to one of the Elder Essene in Alexandria.)

PEACE be with you, dear brethren! You have heard of the things that have happened in Jerusalem and Palestine in general. You were right to believe Jesus to be our brother and a member of the order, of which his friends among the Romans and the Jewish people relate, that he taught and wrought great wonders, and finally suffered the death of martyrs in Jerusalem. He was born in Nazareth, by the entrance to the beautiful valley into which the river "Kisson" rushes down the steep declivities of the Mount Tabor. He was put under the protection of the order by a member of our brotherhood, by whom his father and mother found refuge on their flight to Egypt. There are, as you know, many of our brethren living on the borders of Egypt.

In fine, Jesus was admitted into the order contemporaneous with John in their years of early manhood. He lived then in Galilee and had just returned from a visit to Jerusalem, where he was watched by our brotherhood. His initiation took place at Jutha, close by the great castle of Masseda, where the mountains raise their lofty peaks above the surrounding country. My dear brethren, you may all have been convinced that he has been a member of our order, as well by the doctrines he has taught the people, and his signs of recognition, especially the baptism and the breaking of the bread and passing of the wine, as well as by his being baptized by one of our brethren, John, in Jordan, near the shore of the Dead Sea, in a westerly direction—for baptism has, since time immemorial, been a sacred institution in our order. You wonder that the belief in the supernatural and miracles should gain foothold in our midst, when you know that we all have to bear the responsibility for the actions of our members.

Therefore, you ought to know that the rumor is like a wind. Where it cometh, it driveth the pure air away ahead, but in its progress it receives all vapors and mist in from the earth, and when it passed some distance it creates darkness instead of the clear pure air, of which it was first composed, and at last consists solely of the particles it has received during its progress. It is even so as regards the rumor about Jesus and his fate.

Furthermore, consider that the inspired men that have written and informed of him, were often carried away by their enthusiasm, and in their devotion and simplicity they believed all the things, the people, naturally superstitious, told about him.

Furthermore, consider that all the secrets of our holy brotherhood at all times remained unknown to the writers, in accordance with our rules, and that only the higher members had any knowledge about the secret assistance and protection Jesus received from us.

Take at last into consideration, that our rigid laws prohibit us from interfering or taking any active part in politics, or infringing upon the counsel or plans of the rulers of the land.

Therefore we have acted quietly and secretly, and have suffered the law to take its course at the same time we secretly aided and assisted our friend.

Knowing then that Jesus is our "brother", and has himself vowed, when he at Jutha was admitted in the first degree of our order, that our brotherhood thenceforth should be to him as father and mother, and truly we have proved us as such in accordance with the regulations of our law.

I write this to you, my brethren, in the truth and knowledge of our brotherhood, that you may learn and conceive the truth of what has happened. I inform you of what I know about it, and I have been an eye-witness to all, and secretly taken great interest and active part in all these transactions.

Now that I write this to you, the Jews have seven times ate the lamb of the passover since our brother was crucified, whom we all loved and in whom God was glorified. Still I have forgotten none of the incidents that I have lived to see pass, indeed as true as the words are that pass over my lips, and the thoughts that I write, as verily do I believe from the depth of my soul, that Jesus was chosen by God and begotten by the eternal spirit. He called himself the son of God, and he proved himself to be such by teaching in the name of God; living a holy life, and was well versed in the secrets of nature, human, animal and vegetable. In all these things we acknowledge God; and the man that can say: "Behold, I am of God," verily is so; for he that is not, cannot say it, he not having the word in his heart, and has not learned it from the Spirit.

I will now proceed to relate the parentage of this man, who loved all men, and for whom we feel the highest esteem, that you may have full knowledge of him. He was from infancy brought up for our brotherhood; indeed he was predicted by an Essene, whom the woman thought to be an angel. This woman was of a very imaginative disposition, prying into the supernatural and mysteries of life, and found great pleasure in every thing she could not explain rationally. Our brother, the Essene, has acknowledged his share in the affair, and compensated by getting the brotherhood secretly to search for and protect the child. And Joseph, who was a man of great experience in life, and great devotion to the immortal truth, was, through a messenger from our order, influenced and advised not to leave the woman, nor to shake her belief in the sacredness of the matter, and to be a father to the child till our brotherhood could admit him as a novice.

Health Foods vs. Health Rackets

Dear Bill and Joan:

The best thing I like about the shipment you sent me for Christmas are the enzyme dates pack. Your suggestion that I eat a little of it BEFORE every meal is excellent. It just cuts off that hysteric craving for food and leaves the natural hunger to attend to the meal enjoyment. It reminds me of my hike from El Kantara to Jerusalem some 38 years ago when I carried a basket of dates as provision and a native jug of water. It took me over a month to get to Jerusalem, I walked all alone and visited with Bedouins, from camp to camp, on the way. Learned their language and customs and even made friends. Sort of nostalgia for the desert and its partly wild denizens who were more truly human in their way than some people hereabouts.

Thanks for returning the $12 payment for the shipment which I had forwarded because it was intended to be a business deal. I am the guy who needs the Gensing-Damiana Tea for prostrate-kidney-bladder irritation. Evidently I am a casualty by the wayside of ignorance which did not inform us in our childhood about the functions of sex so that men need not suffer in their fifties of prostrate trouble and women have a change of life, mostly even earlier. It is a crime against us to notice that people really believe women must have a change of life, when our organism is so constituted that virility and reproductive functions should last till death ends them.

But here I am and here are the girls, and, as you will learn in time, I am outspoken and let the chips fall where they may.

Last year I had some X-ray pictures taken to inspect the progress of calcification of some cracked vertebrae which I received in an accident on the day of the U. S. declaration of war in the first world war. Then is when we discovered stones in bladder and kidney. My friend, Dr. George Starr White, of Los Angeles, asked me whether I had not feasted on soya beans since I returned from jail, because he had noticed a peculiar increase of kidney stones among his patients who indulged in soya bean diets. He called my attention to the small "chicken-size" stomachs of Chinese who live almost exclusively on soya beans which they chew in small quanities, and chew and chew, all day long, almost, to extract nourishment, while the white man's stomach is not conditioned for this "bird's" food. Dr. White claims that the soya bean contains substances which play havoc with the inner organism of the white man. And since that time I laid off soya beans and soya preparations.

Joan's "sales talk" on Ginseng is splendid. But the same historic treatment of the subject, referring to the history of Chinese experience and custom, does not click with me as concerns soya nut-beans. Or is there a difference between soya nut and soya bean?

I have learned that the Aryan is a superior physical organism to the Mongol. The northern Mongol lives on soya, the southern on rice, but these foods are deficient for the needs of the Aryan. Therefore one of the 9 Zoroasters of Persia blended grasses till he produced the biochemically perfect food for the Aryan, the wheat, which contains all the elements of the Aryan body in exact proportionate ratio. The shredded wheat wafers of the National Biscuit company were held before me as the ideal staff of life for the Aryan, unless one prefers to chew raw kernals, which is even better for the teeth and digestion all around. This has to be augmented with fruits and vegetables according to temperament, surroundings, season and conditions of occupation.

I am going to give a thorough trial to your Ginseng preparations and I like your soya butter and oil and in the mean time I have to give more study to the subject of soya rackets, according to the warning of Dr. White.

Since I published Dr. White's warning against soya beans, I will give it as much publicity if you decided to explain its advantages and let the readers be their own judges. This paper of ours reaches a number of naturopatic editors and doctors who might decide to contribute their views and experiences. Out of it all we shall undoubtedly come nearer to the truth and profit by it.

It is inconvenient for me to search through back copies for an article we published some time ago about the Doukhobors of Canada, to see if the letter was signed R. S. Jaque, since you mentioned that name, as using yours in connection. Otherwise I cannot remember any letter written in connection with your name.

If Joan ever gets a good picture of your whole family, herself and you included, we might publish it, because 100% Vegetarians are a rarity. The Seventh Day Adventists give lipservice to it, but their hospitals use serms, drugs and methods contrary to Naturopathy, while even the Cafeteria here serves highly salted food, and, believe it or not, since the lack of Agar on the market they serve Jello made of animal cartillage, which is a pity to behold.

I myself don't live as I would like to , hence my organic troubles, but I never give up and where there is Life there is hope of paradise, towards which we all progress in our own ways, step by step, even though some seem to take two steps backward to one forward by placing their faith in Hellish War, against the Christ.

Love, KOSTI.

The Aryan Woman

It is futile to expect to understand what is happening in the world today unless you know the nature of the powers which produce the world and its actions. And the source of all power is Thought. Thought is Consciousness. Only to the extent that we are conscious do we live. Thus the source of all life is Consciousness. Whatever takes place happens in your consciousness and mine. This Consciousness the ancient Zend people called MA, thought. Out of MA everything proceeds and the repetition produces Mama, our mother.

Our mother is conscious of us. In her womb did we appear and till the day she or we die, mother and her love for us is conscious of our needs. She is the first to bring us here and the last to see us go, if go we must. Mother's thought envelopes us, thus it can be a blessing or a curse. A blessing when she is wise, a curse when she is ignorant.

The world which we witness today did not just happen. It is the result of Thought materialized. The thought, system, order behind the phenomena of material nature we call natural law. But it is intelligent thought which our engineers perceive and are able to formulate in precise mathematical symbols formulas that are perfect and exact and when followed always produce definite results. The moron takes it for granted that Nature runs itself, scientifically. Thus the scientific moron in material science is an atheist. He is so dense he does not realize that science means consciousness of Knowledge and consciousness is Thought, not matter.

The seat and bearer of Thought is in you, in me, in the individual, the Ego, the child of Ma. Thought expressed in full splendor was called by the ancient Zend people, Mazda, which has been ignorantly translated with God. But the word God is not as expressive as the sound Mazda, in fact there is no word, or sound, or thought image that can substitute for Mazda. While the true God concept is identical with the concept of Mazda, nevertheless the poverty of expression is so vehement that it compares to an old 2 cylinder Ford vintage car vs. an uptodate Packard. Both represent the same principle of internal combustion machine propulsion, but, my, what a difference!

And so the people whose religion is expressed in "God" are as far behind the times as the people who still drive an ancient 2 cylinder rattletrap. And looking around in the world we notice the poverty of soul and spirit in the people around us whose knowledge of "God" has not enabled them to produce a decent civilization, but they still take "holy oaths" to murder one another. V for Vengeance, when the world has more space, room and material resources to house 10 and 20 times the present population on this planet in abundance for all.

And how is this Savior going to enter upon the material scenes? A virgin mother, not tainted by sinful lust, it to bring him forth.

The business of producing these Saviors, for Nature is abundant and generous, it never produces only one of a kind, but starts with one and another and as she succeeds they multiply by the millions; the business of bringing the Savior into the world is up to our Mama, the Aryan Mother of the race.

It is not one Mary, but every Mary's daughter that is elected to produce the savior of his race. Mary merely set the example and Jesus showed us how to live. The rest is up to us.

And so every woman prays to Mary to bless her that her child may follow in the path of Jesus if a boy, and in Mary's path, if a girl.

The superstition woven around the miraculous conception is black magic to destroy the potentialities of pure love conception in the consciousness of our virgin mothers that His Satanic Holiness in Rome may control the minds, souls and bodies of His ignorant and superstitious subjects from the craddle to the grave.

The Aryan woman needs no mediator between her soul and the Almighty. Our Father is accessible to us for the asking. He sees us acoming from afar and rejoices whenever we realize the futility of wasting our lives against His rule. Once we turn our face to Him we enter upon the exercise of our birthright as divine children of our divine Father and there is no limit to our potentialities.

The Aryan woman does not play second fiddle to her male lord and master as ignorant Lutheran minds have drilled it into German Hausfrauen. Frauen is the plural of Frau. The Aryan woman is not only equal, but the superior of the male. But in true Christian spirit, she who is greater than he, serves him. The ignorant Lutheran mind mistook servility for service. It is the mother who serves her child and husband and it takes greater care and intelligence to serve than to exact.

Bear in mind, this universe is not produced by One God literarily, just as the Ford car is not produced by Henry Ford. It originated in Ford's mind but has been materialized in the factories by the hands of thousands of collaborators.

And neither is it One Mind that produces the universes, but All our minds. Before the Aryan race appeared the blueprints were drawn in the thought of the Elohim. And out of the Mongolian race certain ones had progressed sufficiently to execute them. This materialization became the white man's organism that reproduces itself now and is subject to improvements or destruction.

And now the Aryan woman is to worship the Christ, dedicate herself, body and soul, to his service and not be a slave to her animal passion, but with a virgin's joy that she is to be the mother of the savior race, conceive the seed of her collaborator in the Holy spirit of Service and out of that seed the race comes forth that redeems the earth from its bloody shambles.

Being a sovereign in her own birthright the Aryan woman knows the true meaning of Liberty. Her whole being impels her to play her role, do her part according to the thought she conceived before she yet was born, for she sat in the councils of the Elohim and acquainted herself minutely with the purpose and technique of the Aryan body. Now being here she lives up to her lofty ideals and to be free to do so, this is Liberty.

Her kitchen is not a place of drudgery but the laboratory where she deftly produces the most delicious repast because she is an accomplished bio-chemist. She knows every organ in the body, its functions and what is needed to feed it properly. She is not a cook but a dietetic artist. She is queen in her domain because she anticipates the needs of all her family and serves them in advance. She knows because her Love teaches her.

The mother of the race, the conscious mother, is not an ignorant woman who slaves in a community kitchen or works like the Russian and Polish drudge in field and factory. Labor saving devices provided by the male relieve her of drudgery. His business is to protect her from slavery that she may bring out the perfection of Creative functions. Raising the children in proper habits and right thought is more important than slave labor.

She rules, because she serves before she is told. There is always room at the top where one may think and act accordingly. And when the children are grown up then she is free to devote her leisure to her hobbies elsewhere, taking active part in our industrial production, government and schools.

The difference between the world today and the Aryan world of tomorrow is the difference in outlook, vision. Theaomai, Greek, to behold, to vision. From it derived the term theism. What you behold, this you become. The Atheist has no vision, he has to be ruled, and Stalin is his God.

The Aryan woman visions Heaven on Earth, the Christ Rule, and her children are raised in that atmosphere.

But today, don't fool yourself. People are not Christians. They are Maranos. They give lip service to the Christian religion but at heart they serve the Jewish jungle law: "Blood for blood and life for a life." Hence the Jews rule us and even write our credits.

Irvin S. Cobb said: "If it ever becomes my misfortune to go insane, I want to go live in Washington where I will not be noticed."

HENDERSON, SECRETARY T. N. E. C. COMMITTEE

On or about March 9, 1938, Senator Joseph O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Chairman of the Temporary National Economic Committee known also as Monopoly Committee visited the President.

The outcome of that interview was a request from the T. N. E. C. Committee for an appropriation of $2,000,000 to continue the series of investigations started by that Committee.

American citizens who know the underlying purpose of the work being done by the Committee and its subversive tendencies, well illustrated by the fact that the Executive Secretary, Leon Henderson, is at the same time the President of the pro-Communist arganization "THE WASHINGTON FRIENDS OF SPANISH DEMOCRACY", loudly protest against this further appropriation of funds to that committee.

You are referred for further information to the article which appeared in the financial weekly, BARRON'S, under date January 23rd, 1939 which clearly pointed to the leftist trend of the T. N. E. C. and its ultimate radical purpose of establishing a government control of all investments, which is tantamount to confiscation, such as had been prepared by the administration members who had formed the famous DELAWARE CORPORATIONS.

Whereas only $100,000 were appropriated to the Dies Committee for an investigation of un-American activities, it would indeed be ludricrous to grant $2,000,000 of the txpayers' money to a committee bent on introducing the most un-American measures ever devised, namely that of factual confiscation on the system now practiced in the Soviet Union.

In other words, the T. N. E. C. "internationalists" are requesting tax-payers funds to build and erect the scaffold upon which the American citizens will eventually be hanged by the Friends of the Soviet Union and Spanish Democracy.

WASHINGTON BRANCH
President
LEON HENDERSON

December 19, 1938

Washington, D. C.

Dear [redacted]

An exhibition of portrait busts by Jo Davidson will be on view in Washington at the Whyte Art Galleries from January third until January seventeenth. The exhibit will consist of busts of several of the more important leaders of the Spanish government. It will be shown for the benefit of the Spanish Children's Milk Fund which is directed by Dorothy Parker.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Mr. C. Powell Minnegerode, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Phillips, Mr. Edward Whiting and Mr. Lowell Mellett have already accepted an invitation to sponsor this exhibit in Washington. Madame de los Rios will be one of the hostesses at the preview to be given January third. We should be greatly honored if you would consent to act as a sponsor.

May we hear from you at your convenience?

Very sincerely yours,

Joel Berrall

icy, in investments which are not productive of jobs?

How much has a blockade of capital to do with the log jam of our economy? What, if anything, can Government do to dislodge it—either by direct action or influence?

When does a matter of private investment policy become large enough to influence the national economy enough to become a matter of public policy, and so logically subject to government regulation?

Investors Take Notice

Purpose of all this, as TNEC economists explain it, is to determine whether there should be a social determination and, to enforce it, government control of the flow of investment.

While the insurance companies will be in the front trenches, whatever happens to them may happen to every other large investor...

Of course, TNEC's drift diggers are well aware that insurance companies are limited strictly by law as to the sort of investments that they make—and, therefore, they plan to delve into that subject and see whether the insurance-investment laws are good or bad for the country economically.

It may never come to pass, and probably never will, but if all the questions now being probed privately, which shortly will be paraded publicly, are answered by the word "regulation", it would be the biggest step toward planned economy, and some brand new American-style regimenting "ism" that might happen here.

When Should Federal Authorities Step In?

Everyone connected with the TNEC denies the slightest radical intent. All have eschewed the tossing of dead cats, ripe tomatoes or even unfair phrases at their economic or political enemies. This is, they will tell you, merely an attempt to get at the facts.

CONGRESS INDEPENDENT.. WMAC's CHRISTMAS SOLDIERS' PARTY

By WASHINGTON ADAMS

WASHINGTON, (Special), Jan 1, 1945,— Although encouraged by the present stand of our forces in Europe, official Washington views the war situation more gravely than at any time since Pearl Harbor.

Some correspondents are writing that FDR is the "most deflated" President in our history, being in exactly the opposite position from that occupied by him just before the recent election.

The new Congress which convenes this week will be even more independent than the preceding, on account of the resurgence of power politics in England and Russia, greatly discouraging and disillusioning some New Deal internationalists and strengthening the hands of the so-called "isolationists."

John O'Donnell, brilliant correspondent for the Times-Herald and N. Y Daily News, wrote on the 26th ult. as follows:

"We've seen the draft of one speech scheduled for Senate delivery next month (January) which will demand the return of all American troops from Europe to fight our real No. 1 enemy Japan—unless Roosevelt tells Congress exactly what we are fighting for in France."

Of course, our troops will not be withdrawn from Europe until the war is over, but such a demand in the Senate will show the mood of perhaps a large majority of Congressmen.

SOLDIERS' CHRISTMAS TALK

I did not hear all of it, for it covered about 20 hours, starting at noon on Christmas day.

I wish everybody in America could have heard it.

It contacted every part of the world where our boys are fighting and brought in their voices in Christmas greeting to their folks in the New York and New Jersey areas.

From remote South Pacific islands, from Australia, New Zealand, New Guinea, The Solomons Islands, the Philippines, Hawaii, Alaska and South America; from Italy, France, England, the scene of the present battles in Belgium; from Africa, Iran, China and India; from Iceland, Greenland, and other places too numerous to mention, came amazing talks and interviews by and with young men and women from the metropolitan areas.

The broadcasts were mostly by shortwave via U. S. government facilities directly to WMAC (not a network station, remember), on Christmas day or shortly before; a few of the contacts were made by phonograph recordings and were flown either to some transmitter or across the seas to New York.

Some of the young men spoke only a half-minute or so, but packed many a word in the brief message, in a voice pulsating with emotion. Others were interviewed for a few minutes and brought out amazing details of life in the world's strange places where our men are working and fighting.

One of the outstanding interviews was from the frozen island of Greenland, by "Don" somebody (I didn't catch his last name; his home is in Washingtonville, N. Y.—population 690).

"Don" has charge of the U. S. government radio station in Greenland. He not only rebroadcasts the short wave for the ordinary local sets, but he plays American records on the same nights the boys were accustomed to hearing them at home. This I learned when an army nurse, whom "Don" had been interviewing, turned the tables and interviewed him. He was good. And the ones he interviewed gave such a vivid picture of life in that lonely God-forsaken Arctic land that the listener could imagine himself there.

Similar greetings, talks and interviews came from New Guinea and other South Pacific areas, where the temperature was hot as blazes, and the boys looked forward to a swim as the natural thing to follow the turkey dinners all the boys seemed to have had.

One of our soldiers in Iran told of the several million TONS of "lend-lease" which they transported on the little narrow-gauge railroad to Russia the past year. (I hope old Stalin appreciates this!). Temperature around 130 to 150 in summer! Now the nights are cold in Iran.

Never had I before realized how completely our men are covering the entire world in this war.

Station WMAC made a free recording for the family of every service man and woman who took part in the historic broadcast. The station deserves a medal of merit, both for the broadcast (All commercials eliminated for 20 hours) and for the gifts to the soldier's families.

Only a few of the boys appeared emotionally upset; three or four appeared on the verge of tears. But every one was a thrilling voice, filled with gladness at the opportunity of speaking to their home folks thousands of miles away.

Their voices were mostly sad, with a nostalgic tang. It affected me. I was at times on the verge of tears.

It made me proud of my own United States, of my fellow-citizens, of my own dear kith and kin, undergoing such hardships of cold and heat and blood and death.

Hundreds spoke. Not one praised the war. Not one spoke so much as one word as to why they were fighting. Not one voiced anger or hatred of anybody. Every voice was that of a civilized gentleman.

Everyone had his heart and mind and hopes on home. Everyone said he hoped to be back home next Christmas day.

There was an undertone of horror at the fate and suffering they were enduring, but not a glint of cowardice or fear.

One man on being asked, "What is the best thing about the army?" answered "pay day."

Our soldiers are better cared for than those of any other army in the world history; but the boys are anxious to get back home, and will welcome any ending to the war that does not bring dishonor or imperil our future.

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

Enclosed find a check for 3 dollars which pays for my back subscription. It is really that I am sorry and surely was not done intentionally that I forgot it's expiration. Please keep the change.

Thank you, —M. C.

Not His Lookout

A sergant, drilling a batch of recruits, saw that one of them was marching out of step. Going to the man as they marched, he said sarcastically, "Do you know, Bud, that they are all out of step except you?"

"What?" asked the recruit innocently.

"I said they are all out of step except you!"

"Well," was the retort, "you're in charge, you tell 'em."
